Individuals who wish to receive a copy of the information that we hold about them/their child should refer to the relevant sections of this policy. Once students reach the age of 13, we are legally required to pass on certain information to the relevant Local Authority, which has responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds. Parents, or students if aged 16 or over, can request that only their name, address and date of birth be passed to the relevant Local Authority by informing the Corporate Services Team via email servicedesk@expansivegroup.co.uk.

We are required, by law, to pass certain information about students to specified external bodies, such as our local authority and the Department for Education, so that they are able to meet their statutory obligations.

- Enable individuals to be paid
- Facilitate safe recruitment
- Support the effective performance management of staff
- Improve the management of workforce data across the sector
- Inform our recruitment and retention policies

We will only retain the data we collect for as long as is necessary to satisfy the purpose for which it has been collected. We will not share information about staff with third parties without consent unless the law allows us to. We are required, by law, to pass certain information about staff to specified external bodies, such as HMRC so that they are able to meet their statutory obligations. Any staff member wishing to see a copy of information about them that the Expanse Group holds should contact the Corporate Services Team.

The lawful basis on which we use this information

Personal data can only be processed if it complies with one of 6 'lawful bases' under data protection law. Most commonly, we will use your information in the following circumstances:

- Consent: the individual has given clear consent to process their personal data for a specific purpose;
- Contract: the processing is necessary for a contract with the individual;
- Legal obligation: the processing is necessary to comply with the law (not including contractual obligations);
- Vital interests: the processing is necessary to protect someone's life;
- Public task: the processing is necessary to perform a task in the public interest or for official functions, and the task or function has a clear basis in law;
- The Education Act 1996: for Departmental Censuses 3 times a year. More information can be found at: <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-Expanse-Groups>.

For special categories of personal data, we will also meet one of the special category conditions for processing which are set out in the GDPR and Data Protection Act 2018. If we offer online services to students, such as classroom apps (see saw etc), and we intend to rely on consent as a basis for processing, we will get parental consent where the student is under 13 (except for online counselling and preventive services). Whenever we first collect personal data directly from individuals, we will provide them with the relevant information required by data protection law.

Limitation, minimisation and accuracy

We will only collect personal data for specified, explicit and legitimate reasons. We will explain these reasons to the individuals when we first collect their data. If we want to use personal data for reasons other than those given when we first obtained it, we will inform the individuals concerned before we do so and seek consent where necessary. Staff must only process personal data where it is necessary in order to do their jobs. When staff no longer need the personal data they hold, they must ensure it is deleted or anonymised. This will be done in accordance with the Expansive Group record retention schedule/records management policy.

Sharing data

We may need to share your data with third parties where it is necessary. There are strict controls on who can see your information. We will not share your data if you have advised us that you do not want it shared unless it's the only way we can make sure you stay safe and healthy or we are legally required to do so:

- There is an issue with a student or parent/carer that puts the safety of our staff at risk
- We need to liaise with other agencies – we will seek consent as necessary before doing this
- Our suppliers or contractors need data to enable us to provide services to our staff and students – for example, IT companies. When doing this, we will:
 - Only appoint suppliers or contractors which can provide sufficient guarantees that they comply with data protection law
 - Establish a data sharing agreement with the supplier or contractor, either in the contract or as a standalone agreement, to ensure the fair and lawful processing of any personal data we share
 - Only share data that the supplier or contractor needs to carry out their service, and information necessary to keep them safe while working with us

We will also share personal data with law enforcement and government bodies where we are legally required to do so, including for:

- The prevention or detection of crime and/or fraud
- The apprehension or prosecution of offenders
- The assessment or collection of tax owed to HMRC
- In connection with legal proceedings
- Where the disclosure is required to satisfy our safeguarding obligations
- Research and statistical purposes, as long as personal data is sufficiently anonymised, or consent has been provided

We may also share personal data with emergency services and local authorities to help them to respond to an emergency situation that affects any of our students or staff. Where we transfer personal data to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area, we will do so in accordance with data protection law.

Please refer to the Data Sharing Policy for further information.

Subject access requests

Under the Data Protection Act (2018), students have a right to request access to information Expansive Group holds about them. This is known as a subject access request. Subject access requests must be submitted in writing, either by letter, email or fax. Requests should include:

- The student's name
- A correspondence address
- A contact number and email address
- Details about the information requested

Expansive Group will not reveal the following information in response to subject access requests:

- Information that might cause serious harm to the physical or mental health of the student or another individual
- Information that would reveal that the child is at risk of abuse, where disclosure of that information would not be in the child's best interests
- Information contained in adoption and parental order records
- Certain information given to a court in proceedings concerning the child
- Subject access requests for all or part of the student's educational record will be provided within 15 days.
- If a subject access request does not relate to the educational record, we will respond within 40 calendar days.

Parental requests to see the educational record

Parents have the right of access to their child's educational record, free of charge, within 15 days of a request. Personal data about a child belongs to that child, and not the child's parents. This is the case even where a child is too young to understand the implications of subject access rights. For a parent to make a subject access request, the child must either be unable to understand their rights and the implications of a subject access request or have given their consent.

Parents of students at Expanse Group do not have an automatic right to access their child's educational record. Expanse Group will decide on a case-by-case basis whether to grant such requests, and we will bear in mind guidance issued from time to time from the Information Commissioner's Office (the organisation that upholds information rights).

Storage of records

Paper-based records and portable electronic devices, such as laptops and hard drives, that contain personal information are kept under lock and key when not in use. Papers containing confidential personal information should not be left on office and classroom desks, on staffroom tables or pinned to noticeboards where there is general access. Where personal information needs to be taken off site (in paper or electronic form), staff must sign it in and out from Expanse Group office.

Passwords that are at least 8 characters long containing letters and numbers are used to access the Expanse Groups computers, laptops and other electronic devices. Staff and students are reminded to change their passwords at regular intervals. Encryption software is used to protect all portable devices and removable media, such as laptops and USB devices. Staff, students or governors who store personal information on their personal devices are expected to follow the same security procedures for Expanse Group-owned equipment

Disposal of records

Personal information that is no longer needed, or has become inaccurate or out of date, is disposed of securely. For example, we will shred or incinerate paper-based records, and override electronic files. We may also use an outside company to safely dispose of electronic records.

Training

Our staff and governors are provided with data protection training as part of their induction process. Data protection will also form part of continuing professional development, where changes to legislation or Expanse Groups processes make it necessary.

Monitoring arrangements

The Corporate Services Team is responsible for monitoring and reviewing this policy.

The Corporate Services Team (The Expanse Group) checks that the Expanse Group complies with this policy by, among other things, reviewing Expanse Group records and conducting a Data and Information Security Audit annually.

This document was reviewed when the General Data Protection Regulation came into force, and then every 12 months thereafter.

At every review, the policy will be shared with the governing board.
